KANSAS CITY II SECOND

KANSAS CITY, July 5.—Unofficial figures on the landing places of the four balloons in the national elimination race made by Aero club officials tonight give first place in the race to the Goodyear bag of Akron, Ohio, which landed at West Branch, Mich., an estimated distance of 652 miles from Kansas City.

While John Watts, pilot of the Kansas City II, telegraphed that he had flown 730 miles in the Kansas City II, which descended at Goodrich, Mich., Aero club officials figure his distance at 630 miles, giving him second place in the race. Third place is accorded Captain Honeywell in the Kansas City Post balloon, which landed at Rockwood, Mich., 625 miles, and last place to Million Population club of St. Louis, which came down at Manchester, Mich., a distance estimated at 590 miles. The result of the race will not be definitely known until the figures have been canvassed by the Aero club, which cannot be done tonight because of the absence of aeronautical maps. All the balloons encountered storms in the vicinity of the great lakes and their trips were curtailed because of the elements.

Forced to Ground by Storm.
A telegram to the Aero club from Pilot Honeywell said tonight a severe storm forced him to descend after he had fought it nearly all day. He came down at 2:46 p. m., two miles and half east of Rockwood, Mich. The figures are verified as official, America's representatives in the James Gordon Bennett trophy race in Paris this fall will be:

The Goodyear, Akron, O., R. H. Upson, pilot; R. A. D. Preston, aide.
The Kansas City II, John Watts, pilot; George Quisenberry, aide.
The Kansas City Post, H. E. Honeywell, pilot; Ward Gifford, aide.

Story of Flight.
George Quisenberry, aide of the balloon Kansas City II, telegraphed to the Kansas City Star tonight his experiences. He said the balloon landed on the farm of Reilly Hill, north of Goodrich, Mich., 730 miles from Kansas City at 2:05 this afternoon. Clouds interfered at times with sight of the earth. They heard the noises of a city beneath, the street cars, the motor horns and the whistles of trains and all the many sounds, but the white clouds could not be penetrated. Last night they sighted two storms but avoided both. About mid-night he thought they crossed the Mississippi river somewhere on the eastern edge of Iowa and an hour later sailed over what they thought was Rock Island, Ill.

"At Peco," the story continued, "we came out from the clouds long enough to see a lake front and a huge city ahead of us. It was either Chicago or Milwaukee and we sailed out over Lake Michigan. At 6:35 o'clock we sailed over Lake Michigan. An hour later in the midst of the crossing, a rip almost a foot long in the side of the bag developed and a few minutes later a second. We heard them pop as the restrained gas rushed out and we could not tell where it was a rip or if a new strand had broken. Either was dangerous. If the netting was broken the increased strain on the remaining strands might pull them all apart and let the basket drop. We were in the basket and it was seven thousand feet from the lake. A rip in the fabric might tear the balloon in shreds and the same result would be accomplished. Watts (the pilot) said nothing. He sought the cause and found that two small holes repaired before the balloon had left Kansas City had broken again and they were in the lower part of the fabric where the strain was the least.

"These rips caused us twenty hours in the air and trip over Lake Huron and into Canada. At that point we lost twenty bags of ballast, sufficient for a trip for at least twenty hours. But Watts pushed on. We sailed over Benton Harbor, we believe, at 8:45 o'clock on the eastern shore and struck a high northeast current towards Lake Huron.

"But it was only a question of time. We threw ballast all the morning when the expansion of the gas caused by the sun should have carried us and in the afternoon we had none left. At 2:05 we descended. Two hours later the balloon rolled up and on a wagon was being brought to Goodrich."

Three Leaders Were Close.
Kansas City, July 6.—After midnight the Aero club announced they had telegraphed to New York city and had the distance of the three leading balloons assured on an aeronautical map. The new figures which are as near as can be made until the Aero Club of America officials take the measurement, place Captain Honeywell second in the race and John Watts in the Kansas City II, third. The measurements follow: Goodyear, 647 1/2 miles; Kansas City Post, 642; Kansas City II, 638.

Storm Interferes With Flight.
Detroit, July 5.—The balloon Kansas City Post, Captain H. E. Honeywell, pilot, landed near Rockwood, Mich., about 40 miles north of Toledo, Ohio, at 2:46 this afternoon. The crew landed safely.

A terrific wind and rainstorm which swept lower Michigan, literally drove the Kansas City Post to the ground. Wire communication was demoralized and it was several hours before the crew could communicate with Detroit. The gale drove the big bag into a grove of giant oak trees and as the balloon crashed through the branches the occupants of the car were saved from a furious lashing only by keeping low in the basket. In the descent the limbs of the trees put the rip panel out of commission and with the gas emitting the balloon careened across a wheat field and was brought to a stop by a rail fence.

"We are satisfied," said Ward O. Gifford, Captain Honeywell's aide, "that had it not been for the storm, the Kansas City Post would have remained in the air all night as the ballast and supply were sufficient to have kept us that long in spite of the fact that we had been aloft since 7:33 last evening."

NEGOTIATIONS RESULT IN STRIKE SETTLEMENT

SOUTH AFRICAN GOLD MINERS AGREE TO TERMS PROPOSED

Rein of Anarchy Will End at Once
Many Have Been Killed and Wounded During Strike's Brief Existence.

JOHANNESBURG, July 5.—The strike which involved practically all the gold mines on the Rand ended tonight. During its brief existence anarchy reigned in the city; there was much blood shed and the casualties are estimated at more than one hundred. The authorities were finally compelled to declare martial law and during several hours to day the troops raked the streets with rifle fire.

The negotiations which brought about the settlement were opened this afternoon and brought to a successful conclusion after several hours of discussion, the strike leaders agreeing to the terms proposed. General Louis Botha, of the union of South Africa; George A. Farrar, chairman of the East Rand proprietors' mines and General Smith took part in the negotiations.

Before a settlement was reached there occurred the fiercest and most sanguinary conflicts between the police and the troops and the mobs that had yet taken place. Early in the afternoon crowds gathered in front of the Rand Club and began to stone it. They disregarded orders to disperse and the troops fired with deadly effect. Near the Union Club another mob was scattered by the dragons.

Some of the principal streets were the scene of sharp engagements. Ambulances were kept busy for the soldiers aimed to kill. Within a comparatively short time and in a comparatively small area, about sixty rioters were killed or wounded. The fighting in other quarters swelled the casualty list, it is believed to be considerably over a hundred. The terms of the settlement are:

1. The strike is to be immediately declared off, the strikers to return to their homes; all further disturbances shall cease and no more property is to be destroyed.

2. The new Kleinfontein strikers are to be reinstated and the government is to grant suitable compensation to the strike-breakers who are in no way to be victimized.

3. The strikers in other mines are to return to their work and are to be taken back as mining operations are resumed; no victimization to take place.

4. Representatives of the workers are at liberty to lay any other grievances before the government which will inquire into them.

Forty Persons Killed.
London, July 5.—A Johannesburg despatch to a London news agency reports that forty persons were killed in the fighting between troops and the rioters.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 5.—Mrs. Augustus Ekman, who confessed to the police to killing her 12-year-old daughter, Frances Ekman, whose body was found in a trunk a week ago, today pleaded not guilty in the municipal court here. Her trial was set for July 14. C. L. Anderson, her husband, has employed attorneys for the defense.

Detroit, July 5.—The balloon Kansas City Post, Captain H. E. Honeywell, pilot, landed near Rockwood, Mich., about 40 miles north of Toledo, Ohio, at 2:46 this afternoon. The crew landed safely.

A terrific wind and rainstorm which swept lower Michigan, literally drove the Kansas City Post to the ground. DEBATE PROPOSAL FOR LOBBY INVESTIGATION

SENTIMENT IN HOUSE IS ALMOST UN-ANIMOUS FOR PROBE

All Amendments Adopted Were to Broaden Scope of the Work—House Investigation May Be Distinct From That of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The house wrestled several hours today with a proposal for a lobby investigation on its own account and finally deferred a vote until Wednesday. Although debate had been limited to one hour, it raged throughout the entire sitting and ignored warnings of Republican Leader Man to "get down to business." adjournment was forced on lack of a quorum. Apparently sentiment was almost unanimous for an investigation. A resolution from the rules committee proposed not only an investigation by a committee of seven of Martin M. Mulhall's charges that congressmen had been influenced by the lobby of the National Association of Manufacturers but a probe of the whole "lobby." Before the house had adjourned all amendments adopted were to broaden the scope. The house investigation probably will be distinct from that of the senate. The most noteworthy feature was the elimination of a provision for the employment of counsel by the house committee. Representative Levy of New York flatly opposed to the investigation suggested the possibility that Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the money trust committee might be contemplated. Representative Henry of Texas defended Untermyer, claiming his work, adding that he had not idea who was contemplated for counsel for the lobby inquiry.

Finally the provision for counsel was dropped. Mr. Henry, next Wednesday will renew the fight for employment of counsel.

An unsuccessful effort was made to limit the time for report of the committee to September 1st, next and an amendment was still pending to specifically require all hearings to be open.

ABLE TO FORECAST WEATHER A SEASON IN ADVANCE

Discoveries by Scientist Will Enable
Farmers to Know in Advance
What Crop Prospects Are.

Chicago, July 5.—Astronomical discoveries that scientists say may make it possible to forecast weather conditions a season in advance, were announced today by Prof. F. B. Frost of Yerkes Observatory, Williams Bay, Wis. The announcement is the result of ten years tabulation of observations of the sun.

The records show that the "solar constant" does not exist as the sun is a variable star and that solar radiation is indicated by the sunspots which wax and wane in a regular cycle of eleven years. The observations were made, according to Prof. Frost, for the purpose of bringing the science of astronomy to the aid of agriculture in order that farmers may know in advance of planting seasons what crop prospects are.

Variation in solar heat amounting to more than five per cent in a week was discovered. Radiation from the sun is high when sunspots are numerous. At present sunspots are few but in four years it may be expected that a large number will develop, according to Prof. Frost.

Astronomical observers are now devoting their chief attention to the observation of sunspots which experience has shown that they are the things that effect all things on this planet.

SOUTHERN PASSENGER DERAILED MIDWAY OF LONG TUNNEL

No One Is Reported Hurt but Many
Are Partially Overcome by Gases
From the Locomotive.

St. Louis, July 5.—Suffocating passengers of a Southern Railway train scumbled blindly through a mile long tunnel when the engine, baggage and mail cars were derailed midway in the bore near New Albany, Ind., today. Reports of the accident received by the general superintendent of the road here stated that while no one was hurt, dozens of persons were partially overcome by gases from the locomotive and sought safety by scrambling through car windows and groping their way towards the entrance of the tunnel.

The train left Louisville this morning and was due at St. Louis at 6:30 p. m. Traffic through the tunnel was delayed five hours while the tracks were being cleared and a relief locomotive, sent from New Albany, then pulled the coaches from the tunnel.

DRILLING RECORD BROKEN.
Wardner, Idaho, July 5.—The world's record in rock drilling was broken here today by Sillio and St. Germain, who drilled 46 13-16 inches into granite in 15 minutes and won a prize of $200.

The previous record, 45 7-16 inches, was made at Tonopah, Nev., July 4, last year.

OBTAIN LESS THAN $1,000.
New Orleans, July 5.—Less than $1,000 was obtained by the robbers who held up the Illinois Central south bound train near Tallahassee, Miss., according to American Express company officers. The train was held up Friday night.

REUNION OF BLUE AND GRAY IS OVER

Camp Where 55,000 Veterans Were Cared for
Will Close Today

BIG CAMP IS DESERTED

Camp Is Practically Deserted
Save for Workmen and Soldiers at Task of Dismantling

REVISE PLAN FOR MONUMENT

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 5.—A great reunion of the blue and the gray commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg practically came to an end today, although the camp where more than 55,000 old soldiers were cared for during the week will not close until tomorrow.

During the day weary veterans walked over the dusty roads and streets to the railroad stations in the camp and the town of Gettysburg and stood or sat around under the rays of a scorching sun while the trains to take them home were being prepared. There were no flying banners, blaring bands or marching columns.

The veterans came to the stations and waited patiently for the announcer with his big megaphone to tell them their trains were made up. Usually about twelve coaches constituted a train and the railroad people faced the biggest problem of the week in getting loaded trains away.

It was the sultriest and most uncomfortable day of the week. One old soldier in gray from North Carolina dropped dead in the crowd at a town station on one of the railroads. He was H. H. Hodges of Union Hill, N. C. Tonight the camp was practically deserted. The electric lights in the sixty-two streets in the camp were burning brightly, but the streets themselves were deserted save for the hurrying back and forth of soldiers and workmen who have already begun the task of dismantling the camp.

Tonight the army officers, after a week of the hardest sort of work, made merry at a dinner in the mess tent which they have used jointly with the newspaper correspondents. General Liggett presided and all the officers present were felicitated over the wonderful success of what was described as an army camp that will stand as model for all the countries of the world for years to come.

Plan for Monument.
When the week's program for the celebration was tentatively laid out some time ago it was arranged that the final feature of the reunion should be the laying of a cornerstone of a great peace memorial on the battlefield, but the plan for the monument fell through. Today Col. Cowan of Louisville, Ky., who was a captain of the first New York battery in the battle of Gettysburg, revised the plan and as a result of a meeting over which he presided a committee went to Washington with a view to securing the introduction in congress of a bill providing for the erection of a peace monument and the appropriation of $1,000,000 in addressing the gathering.

Cowan recounted stirring scenes of the battle of fifty years ago in which he participated and concluded with an appeal for all to try and influence congress and states to erect a peace monument which shall be higher and grander than any other now here or hereafter erected on the battlefield of Gettysburg.

LONE ROBBER HOLDS-UP BANK
BUT CAN'T GET AWAY WITH LOOT

Youthful Bandit Unable to Elude
Pursuers Stands Submerged in Spring Until Chill of Waters Drives Him Out.

Portland, Ore., July 5.—A lone robber, who entered the First State bank of Milwaukee, a suburb of Portland, shortly after noon today and with a revolver induced Cashier A. L. Bolstead to permit him to scoop up all the gold in reach of the latter's wicket, was captured late today in the woods some miles distant. He gave the name of Virgil Perrine and said he was from St. Louis. He is 20 years old.

After fleeing from the bank with citizens in pursuit, the robber, on gaining the woods, hid himself by standing submerged to the neck in an enclosed spring. He remained there for two hours until the chill of the water drove him from his hiding place into the hands of a sheriff's posse.

The robber's loot, about $300 in gold, was found in his pockets, with the exception of $40 he dropped in his flight.

DAVENPORT YOUTHS DROWN.
Davenport, Ia., July 5.—Charles Early and Walter Shell of Davenport were drowned while attending picnic parties yesterday afternoon. Early in the Mississippi river below the city and Shell in Rock river near Black Hawk Tower. Both were about 21 years old.

ATTEMPT TO ALIGN SENATE DEMOCRATS

ADMINISTRATION TARIFF FORCES
FACE IMPORTANT FIGHT

Chairman Simmons Is Confident
Binding Pledge Will Be Adopted
Monday By a Safe Majority—
Strong Opposition Develops.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Administration tariff forces are facing one more important fight in their attempt to align senate Democrats on the report of the Underwood-Simmons bill. The senate caucus committee spent two hours today debating the question of party members supporting the bill.

Strong opposition from senators opposed to free sugar and free wool prevented action on the binding pledge today. With only 31 senators present out of a total Democratic membership of 51 the leaders hesitated to force an issue today and the caucus adjourned until 4 p. m., Monday.

Telegrams were hurried out tonight to all absent members calling them into Washington for Monday's meeting. The fight against the binding pledge developed more strength today than the leaders expected. Chairman Simmons, however, is confident that the caucus Monday will adopt the unit rule by a safe majority, pledging all Democrats except those who have made other pledges to their constituents or who withdraw from the caucus to support the bills in its entirety. Practically all other features of the bill have been completed.

HAWAIIAN IS GREATEST SHORT DISTANCE SWIMMER

Breaks All Records in 100 and 75
Yard Dashes in Pacific Coast Championships.

San Francisco, July 5.—Duke Kahanamoku, the Olympic champion to day proved that he is the greatest short distance swimmer the world has ever seen. Entered from the Hui Nalu Club of the Hawaiian Island in the Pacific Coast championships of the A. A. U., he broke all records in the 100 and 75 yard dashes. All three times watches caught it alike. For the 100 yards his time was 54-3-5 seconds. Daniels of New York held the previous record of 54-4-5 for a course with four turns. As is well known the swimmer gains speed kicking himself away from the boundary wall and the more turns the faster the course. The Suto Baths course is 75 yards. As a straightaway course the record is 56-4-5.

Smith of San Francisco, unattached, was second with 59 seconds flat, which beats the previous Pacific Coast record of sixty seconds flat, held by J. Scott Leary of the Olympic club. Smith led by two yards at the half mark but there the invincible Hawaiian turned loose his full power and at the turn he was in the lead with a new world's record for 75 yards. His time was 39-3-5 seconds.

Daniels best time the former world's record for a course with two turns was 40-1-5. Kahanamoku swam straight away.

In a 300 yard relay race later in the evening Kahanamoku who took the first lap was snapped by two officials who timed the lap out of curiosity at 37 seconds flat.

WISCONSIN TORNA-DOES GREAT DAMAGE

Growing Grain is Badly Damaged—
Storm Causes Havoc Along River.

Lacrosse, Wis., July 5.—Many miles of telephone wires are down and communication with rural districts is still out as the result of a tornado. Many thousands of dollars worth of damage has been done to growing grain. Many wind mills were demolished by wind, while dozens of farm houses were unroofed and fences blown down. The greatest damage in this city was done along the river front where many boat houses were destroyed and launches were blown on shore. Trees eighteen inches in diameter were broken off close to the ground. One of the new factory buildings of the Lacrosse Ploy company was demolished.

SEPARATE RECEIVERS ARE APPOINTED FOR RAILROADS

Appointment of Receivership Is Constructed to Mean a Dismemberment of the Frisco System.

St. Louis, Mo., July 5.—An order was filed in the federal district court here today appointing William C. Nixon and William M. Biddle successors to B. L. Winchell in the receivership of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad. Before the receivership they were vice-presidents of the Frisco and are now in charge of operation and traffic respectively. ROUMANIA GREATEST MENACE TO BULGARIA

FUTURE ATTITUDE DEPENDENT UPON
NEGOTIATIONS WITH BULGARS

Opinion in Constantinople Is That Turkey Should Take Prompt
Advantage of the Present Opportunity to Recover Some of Her Lost Territory.

VIENNA, July 5.—Private reports from Belgrade indicate that even Serbian official quarters are beginning to fear that the campaign against the Bulgarians is almost hopeless. For Bulgaria's attitude of Roumania constitutes the greatest menace. The Roumanian army has been provisionally mobilized but the government makes her future attitude dependent upon the negotiations with Bulgaria. It is hoped here that Bulgarian statesmen will perceive the necessity of coming to a speedy and amicable settlement with their neighbor, whose friendship at the present moment is of such vital necessity to Bulgaria.

The Serbian loss of the Timok division, in addition to the breaking up of the Drina division is regarded in well informed circles in Vienna as pressing a speedy conclusion of the war.

Would Maintain Neutrality.
Constantinople, July 5.—A semi-official statement declares that the government desires to maintain neutrality. It adds significantly that the conflict between the Balkan allies has aroused excitement in the Turkish army "which it will be difficult for the government to check if Turkey does not obtain just and equitable recognition of her rights."

The opinion is general in influential Turkish quarters that Turkey should take prompt advantage of the present splendid opportunity to recover some of her lost territory.

Praises His Army.
Saloniki, July 5.—King Constantine has sent the following message to all divisions:

"To my valiant army which has shown such heroism during the recent battles, crushing the enemy whenever it has met him I express my admiration and pride at being at its head."

Greek Minister Withdraws.
Sofia, July 5.—The Greek minister withdrew from here, today after placing the Greek interests in the hands of the French legation.

Minister Preparing to Leave.
Athens, July 5.—The Bulgarian minister is preparing to leave Athens. The Bulgarian flag on the legation was lowered today.

Geds Official Confirmation.
London, July 5.—The Bulgarian legation received tonight official confirmation of the surrender of the Serbian Timok division, numbering 4,000. Six machine guns, twenty-seven quick firers and a complete commissariat train were also captured.

Two Serbian regiments which crossed the frontier into Bulgaria, according to further advices, have been driven back to the north of Egri Palanka.

WOMEN EXERCISE RIGHT OF FRANCHISE

Vote For First Time in This State
For Municipal Officers in Wamac, Near Centralia.

Chicago, July 5.—Exercising the right of franchise for the first time in this state women voted to day for municipal officers in Wamac, near Centralia and on bond issues in two other cities, Libertyville and North Chicago.

A president of the village board and six trustees were elected at Wamac. Mrs. W. Q. Coleman was the first voter at the polls. She appeared before 7 o'clock and waited for the polls to open in order to obtain the honor of being the first woman in Illinois to vote.

A $10,000 bond issue for a new village hall was the issue at Libertyville. Fifteen women, all but two of whom were married voted within a short time after the polls were opened. Most of the married women came to the voting places with their husbands. Ages of women voters were not asked by the election judges.

More than two hundred women voted on the bond issue in North Chicago. Family unanimity on the question seemed apparent among the couples who came to vote together. A special election for July 15th, has been called for Springfield, Ill., but only 130 women have registered. A mayor will be elected in Mt. Auburn on July 15th. The primary will be Tuesday when the women's names will be placed on the poll books.

Peoria Heights, Ill., will elect a mayor, Aug. 5th.

RUN DOWN BY "JOYRIDERS."
Galesburg, Ill., July 5.—Frank H. Mills, foreman of Swift & Company's Galesburg branch was probably fatally injured to day when he was run down by "joyriders" returning from a Fourth of July celebration. Mills was riding a bicycle on his way to work.

CARRY OUT SUICIDE PACT.
Vinton, Iowa, July 5.—Clifford Barkdel, aged 20 shot and instantly killed Blane B. Goarke, aged 16, near her home here last night and then committed suicide. The young people were sweethearts and it is believed the opposition of their parents to their courtship caused them to enter into a suicide pact.

PRESIDENT WILSON AT SUMMER HOME

Seeks Rest and Diversion from Official Duties
at Cornish, N. H.

SEES ONLY HIS FAMILY

No One Gets Inside the Gate to See the President and He Spends Quiet Evening

WILL STAY UNTIL TUESDAY

CORNISH, N. H., July 5.—President Wilson always out of simplicity and seclusion when seeking rest and diversion from official duties found in his summer home here which he saw for the first time to day the extreme of isolation and quiet.

Arriving at Harlakenden House, which has been leased for two years as a summer capitol the president saw nobody in fact but members of his family. Absolutely no one got inside the big gate a quarter mile from the house to catch a glimpse of the president.

The evening was spent at home in the shadows of oil lamps and candles, for there are no electric lights in Cornish.

The president's arrival was inconspicuous and attracted little attention. Windsor, Vermont, the nearest town of any size to Cornish contributed a handful of people out of its 2,000 population to greet the president. Except for a single cheer there was no demonstration.

Along the way some of the natives waved a flag and occasionally an apron fluttered, but the ascent of three and half miles to Harlakenden House was uneventful.

Enjoys Short Motor Ride.
The secret service operatives grouped in a car behind, trailed along with difficulty as the president's machine ploughed through the deep sand and left in its wake atmosphere thick with clouds of dust. The weather was hot and sultry most of the day, but cooled off somewhat towards evening. The president was taken on a sightseeing tour of his home by Mrs. Wilson immediately on his arrival. He stepped out to the post-coach that fronts on the Connecticut river. Looking down, however, he saw a moss covered stream shallow and filled with logs and debris. The president took a nap in the afternoon and a short motor ride before dinner.

Miss Jessie Wilson returned tonight with her fiancée Francis Bowes Sayre. They had been visiting in Pennsylvania and had spent the day at Williamstown, Mass., with President Garfield of Williams College of which Mr. Sayre is a graduate. The family circle was not complete however as Miss Margaret Wilson, the eldest daughter, is visiting near Madison, Wis., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Davies.

The president brought with him only his physician Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N., leaving behind all secretaries and stenographers. He said he expected to do no work but would "loaf." He denied himself to the correspondents throughout his visit, declaring that if anything of importance developed at Washington requiring comment from him he would go there immediately and become fully advised of the situation before expressing himself.

On Monday he probably will play golf. His schedule calls for departure on Tuesday but there is a possibility that his stay may be lengthened if legislative affairs in Washington are not pressing.

DENY A SEPARATION.
London, July 5.—Miss Ellen Terry and her husband, James Carew, who was formerly her leading man deny that they have separated. In response tonight to a message inquiring as to the truth of a report that a formal separation had been reached the couple denounced the report as absurd.

WILL BE SENT TO ITALY.
Jersey City, N. J., July 5.—Porter Carlton will start for Italy during the coming week to answer for the murder of his wife Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Carlton according to the present plan of the authorities.

Mathis and there was an abundance of beautiful flowers, among them pieces from the different lodges of which the deceased was a member and a large floral pillow bearing the words "Assistant Postmasters of Illinois," which was sent by the organization of which the deceased was a vice-president. The flowers were in charge of Miss May Lambert, Miss Florence Cobb, Miss Lydia Tighe and Mrs. Mary Kinney.

PRINCESS VICTORIA REACHES 45TH BIRTHDAY

English Woman of Royal Blood Has Refused Brilliant Alliances.

London, July 45.—Princess Victoria, one of the best loved members of the royal family, will reach her 45th birthday anniversary tomorrow. The princess is the second daughter of the late King Edward, and in spite of her 45 years is still one of the prettiest princesses in Europe. This, perhaps, might have been expected, as her mother was a beauty and is even a beautiful woman yet, and her father was by no means bad looking.

The wonder is that such a pretty woman with such lofty rank as the Princess Victoria was not married to some son of a king long ago. In her youth gossip often allied her with royal gentlemen on the continent, but it proved to be gossip only. As a matter of fact the princess has had many opportunities to contract a "brilliant matrimonial alliance," as such alliances are usually viewed by the eyes of royalty. But Victoria has chosen to remain a spinster. Years ago she fell in love with and desired to wed the head of a great English banking firm, a man who in every respect was one of the finest types of the English gentleman. Her love was reciprocated. But the banker was not of royal birth, and in consequence the princess' august grandmother, Queen Victoria, put a veto on the proposed match.

The Princess Victoria apparently is well satisfied with her lot as a "bachelor girl." It has been said that she is a little bit "fussy" and that her ideas on many subjects are "old maidish." But those who know her best describe her as an angel and a perfect peacemaker. Her devotion to her mother is touching in the extreme. The two are almost inseparable.

The health of the Princess Victoria has always been delicate, and she neither rides nor shoots, but all the same is one of the most athletic of all the members of the royal family. She has a great liking for tennis and golf and for many years was a most ardent and devoted of the bicycle.

Reading, both prose and poetry, occupies much of her spare time, and Browning is said to be her favorite poet. The princess owns some fine jewels, notably a precious pendant, oval in shape, and formed of superb rubies and diamonds.

Cup Quality is the Real Test

There is Only One Real Test for Coffee and That is in the Cup

WHEN YOU BUY COFFEE you, of course, take it home, brew it and if it "hits the spot" you will come back for more—and you win. If it doesn't taste right we lose.

We buy on cup quality, not on appearance. We match goods on the same basis. Our coffee, is unvarying in quality, is the same today as the day we opened our store. We sell all of our coffees in BULK and by so doing save our customers at least 3 to 5c per pound. Coffee of an equal quality sold in packages costs from 3 to 5 cents more on the pound.

Here is one place to buy coffee where the quality will be found the same 365 days in the year. Roberts Blends do not vary and they never fail to satisfy.

Keep the Auto or Buggy Bright

Our soft wool dusters are the best ever for your automobile or buggy. They bring better results than feather dusters or rag wipers and do not tarnish the finish.

Wool sponges have more than doubled in price in the past three months but we charge you the same old price. Get one to day. Follow the use of the sponge with one of our oil tan chamois skins and your vehicle will shine like a new one. Our chamois skins were specially selected, are soft in texture and durable in quality.

SOAPS AND TALCUM.—You will be clean and comfortable both if you use our soaps and talcums. We specially recommend Lana Ooil soap; it is equal in quality to soaps of three times the price.

TALKED ABOUT THE WAR DAYS OF FIFTY YEARS PAST
Major Johnson of Springfield and Capt. Smith Have Been Friends For Fifty Years.
Capt. Alexander Smith enjoyed a visit Friday from his long time friend Major Edward S. Johnson of Springfield, custodian of the Lincoln monument. Major Johnson entered the service as a 1st Sergeant for the first three months service and then was promoted to a first Lieutenant of Company I, of the 7th Illinois infantry. This company was made up of the famous Springfield Zouave grays. At Ft. Donaldson the captain of the company was killed and Johnson was elected to the post. When the members of the company re-enlisted in 1863 as veterans he was elevated to the rank of major and continued so to the close of the war. To day he and Major George H. Estabrook of Carrington, N. D., are the only two survivors of the field officers of the regiment. The company in which Major Johnson enlisted had the benefit of the instruction of Capt. Ellsworth of Chicago who was accounted one of the ablest of the drill masters. Ellsworth was afterward colonel of a New York regiment of zouaves and was killed at Alexandria when he went to the top of a hotel building and tore down a rebel flag. The hotel keeper met him at the foot of the stairway and fired on him. The hotel keeper in turn met death from the musket of a private in Ellsworth's command.
Trained by an expert, and afterwards a student of military affairs Major Johnson became one of the most able field officers of the army. He early gave to Capt. Smith the benefit of his knowledge and it was the tutelage thus received which enabled the Jacksonville man at seventeen to be advanced to a first lieutenant.
Major Johnson is an especially capable custodian of the Lincoln monument because he knows so much of Lincoln and the entire family. As a child he lived near the Lincoln home and played with the boys.

HEAD ON COLLISION AT MEREDOSIA

AUTOMOBILES MEET AT CURVE IN THE ROAD.

Occupants Escape Injury But Cars Had to Be Towed Into Garage—H. C. Rond—Runs Into Rope Fence—Other Automobile Notes.

A head-on automobile accident happened one mile east of Meredosia Friday afternoon when Rhiney Ommen and party, driving a Reo and C. P. Hudson and party in a Buick met at a double curve of the road. Ommen was going out of the town and Hudson returning and both machines were maintaining a good rate of speed. It is said that one of the men partially lost control of his machine and the other thinking he was turning the wrong way endeavored to avoid him and the collision resulted. The front axle on both machines was broken and one wheel on the Hudson car was knocked off. It was necessary to summon aid from Meredosia and have the cars hauled in. The parties in the cars were given a good jolting but no injuries resulted.

Breaks Wind Shield.

H. C. Pond, of Meredosia, who drives a Mitchell car did not notice a rope which had been stretched to prevent traffic on one of the streets of the village and as a result he ran his machine against the rope with such force that the wind shield was badly smashed. Luckily for the driver the rope broke.

Many Autos at Park.

Storage room for automobiles in many places at Nichols park fourth of July night was at a premium, and several times there was a congestion of traffic, although the police handled the various conveyances in a highly commendable manner. One automobile driver suggested the idea that on nights when there was a special attraction at the park that all machines should enter on the west side and make the exit on the east side. That would throw all the automobiles lights, many of which are extremely bright in the same direction, and parties, coming the opposite way would not be blinded as is often the case.

Do Not Sound Horns.

Several drivers manifest a habit of not properly sounding a warning at crossings. Friday evening at the junction of East State street and South East street, two machines met, neither having sounded a warning. As luck would have it no damage resulted. People along the streets become so accustomed to machines that when the crossings are reached they are apt to forget about the car unless a good loud warning is given.

Should Turn to the Right.

An automobile driver, who has had occasion to travel the public highways considerable, said that a great many people in rigs fail to heed the law, which says that they must turn to the right and give the auto driver half of the road, when the machine is coming from the rear. If the driver is compelled to turn out, he must necessarily put on more power, which makes the machine sound louder and in a great many instances scares the horse. Some drivers of vehicles also labor under the impression, that when a machine approaches from the rear that they can whip up and make the corner first. The habit is a bad one for often the horse becomes unmanageable and is likely to give a jump right in front of the automobile.

Joy Riding Dangerous.

Reports of the past week show a number of deaths from "joy riding." It is said that this is often the result of incompetent chauffeurs but in a number of instances the owners of the cars were doing the driving. The tendency to joy ride is more prevalent among those who are first learning to run their cars.

Roads in Good Condition.

Many are planning for long trip today on account of the roads being in good condition and the weather ideal. While it is a trifle hot where buildings and trees prevent the breeze, in the open the air is delightful.

COOL WAVE EXPECTED TO BREAK LONG HOT SPELL

Chicago Feels Relief From Week of High Temperatures Which Caused Many Deaths and Prostrations.

Chicago, July 5.—A cool wave late today broke the long continued hot spell here, during which for over a week the thermometer has ranged in the nineties, taking a toll of more than fifty deaths and causing many prostrations. Seven deaths from the heat and two more prostrated and in serious condition were reported by the police today.

Hot Night in Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., July 5.—Following the hottest night of the year when the mercury stood at 90 at midnight, today's temperature again hovered near record marks in a number of Kansas towns. At Arkansas City a temperature of 102 degrees was reported, Salina reporting the mercury at the 100 degree mark with stifling humidity, and Dodge City reports a maximum for the day of 98 degrees. In Topeka the government thermometer registered 95 degrees.

Season's Record Broken.

Kansas City, July 5.—With the temperature 97 degrees here today, the season's record was broken. Twice during May the mercury reached 96. No prostrations were reported and a north breeze helped to temper the heat.

Wind and Rain Storm.

Marietta, O., July 5.—Several persons were injured and considerable property damage was caused by a terrific wind and rain storm which broke over this city this afternoon. Houses were unroofed and trees were uprooted in all parts of the city. A great volume of water was poured into the Muskingum river, sweeping out a pantoon bridge over which a half hundred people fleeing from the storm had just passed.

CELEBRATE FOURTH AT LITERBERRY.

In keeping with an annual custom a Fourth of July celebration was held on the lawn at the Aaron Petefish residence in Literberry Friday afternoon and evening. For several years it has been the custom for the young people of the neighborhood to hold a celebration at the Petefish farm near Literberry but on account of the rain last Fourth the celebration was held on Mr. Petefish's lawn and such a good time was enjoyed that it was decided to hold the celebration there again this year.

Fully one hundred and twenty-five people gathered on the spacious lawn at the Petefish home in the afternoon and the time was very delightfully spent with contests and outdoor games. In the evening an elaborate picnic supper, consisting of all manner of good things to eat, was served, which was heartily enjoyed by the large crowd. After supper there was a beautiful display of fireworks and the celebration was concluded with a musical program by Mrs. Ruel Crum.

Among those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Woods and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Petefish and sons Russell and Charles of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Crum and Miss Mary Lowden of Virginia, Miss Pearl Jewsbury of Jacksonville, Miss Irene Valentine of Concord and Mrs. Frank Ogle and children of Topeka, Kan.

GIANT CRACKER EXPLODES IN HAND.

Earl Fitch, son of Charles Fitch, received a very painful burn on the hand Friday as the result of a giant cracker exploding in his hand. The injury is not considered serious.

GETTING CRIBS INTO SHAPE.

The recent rains which have come to Morgan county have made it well nigh certain that after all Morgan county will have at least an average corn crop. There are consequently a good many farmers who are making plans for cribs or are repairing the cribs already erected. This is the course of wisdom too as there is no reason for waiting until fall for the improvements. At the Crawford lumber yard they have some stock especially designed for cribbing.

A PITIFUL CASE.

Mrs. Lizzie Johnson, who claims Astoria as her home, came to Jacksonville yesterday on a Burlington train. The woman is half blind and the child is a cripple and their condition was such that they were turned over to the care of Miss Weller, city matron. It was determined to send them out to the poor farm for a temporary stay until it has been determined what can be done with them.

PUBLIC LIBRARY REPORT IS PUBLISHED

ANNUAL STATEMENT PRESENTED TO CITY COUNCIL AND TO BOARD.

Record of the Year Presents Some Interesting Data—Interest in Library Grows as Social and Educational Center—Facts About Books and Borrowers.

The annual report of Miss Lorena Weber, public librarian, has been made to the library board and a copy submitted also to the city council. The facts set forth show that the past year was one of growth and that the library is gaining ground not only in the number of books borrowed but that it is also coming to hold a large place in the social and educational life of the city. The main facts from the report are as follows:

To the Honorable Board of Directors of the Jacksonville Public Library. It is my privilege to submit the annual report covering the year ending May 1, 1913.

Accessions.
Bound periodicals 95
Gift 52
Transferred from rent collection 90
Transferred from periodical col. 50
Books added for rent col. 133
Books purchased for regular col. 688
Total added 1108
Total withdrawn 316
Total now in the library 17,968

The library still suffers through the enforcement of the Junil tax law which reduces the annual appropriation 16 2-3 per cent below what it was previous to 1909.

Since this law has been in force it has been necessary to readjust the entire library budget; but because the cost of maintaining the library cannot be much reduced except at the expense of its usefulness and good service, it has been necessary to limit the purchase of new books. The amount spent for new books dropped from $619 in 1909 to $260 in 1910 and $332 in 1911, but by the practice of the most rigid economy in all expenditures during the past fiscal year, it has been possible to increase this amount to $535.

At the same time more care than ever has been given to the careful selection of books for purchase. The smaller the amount available for books, the greater is the necessity for care that no worthless or unattractive book be bought.

More than ordinary attention has been given to the selection of unusual new books of travel, biography, sociology and literature. And a number of practical books for men have been bought, but considerable expenditure is needed to make this department really useful and of sufficient importance to keep the collection well balanced.

Owing to the increased interest in Panama, China, the Balkan states, Turkey, etc., attractive and authoritative works have been purchased to satisfy this interest.

A most unusual demand for modern drama has been felt for three or four years, but since the organization of the local Drama league this demand has become insistent. Important additions have been made to this department. Splendid books helpful to persons planning entertainments, festivals and holiday celebrations have also been bought for this section.

Special attention has been given to practical works on agricultural subjects and home economics. Among the latter there are a number of excellent books upon food, diet and sanitation.

Fine new works have been bought upon electrical subjects and some notable new books of interest to Bible students. Among these were Smith's Historical Geography of the Holy Land and a number of good commentaries on individual books of the Bible.

Some attractive and useful handbooks were greatly needed for collectors of old furniture, laces, postage stamps, etc., and purchases have been made.

The reference collection is added to each year, by the purchase of late handbooks, statistical works, etc. The most expensive addition to any one class this year, was the purchase of the three new volumes supplementing the Dictionary of National Biography.

Inventory and Withdrawals.
Of the total number of volumes reported withdrawn, 140 were transferred from one class to another. This leaves 166 worn out and discarded and 19 volumes lost. Five of these were paid for.

The inventory started in 1912 was completed this spring. Forty-one adult books and 29 children books were found to be missing, and of this number only 18 were fiction. Many of the missing volumes will be located later.

Circulation.
The library has been open the usual hours and only the customary holidays have been observed. The total circulation of 42,124 shows a decided increase in the reading of books of travel and biography. This is probably due to the kind of purchases made during the year. The percentage of fiction circulated remains about the same from year to year. During seven years it has varied from 71 per cent in 1906 to 63 per cent in 1913.

Bound magazines are now loaned from 8 p. m. till 10:30 the following morning and at 5 p. m. on Saturdays. This privilege has been much appreciated and even greater liberality is needed in the loaning of those reference books.

Registration.
There were 747 new cards issued to adults and 257 to children, making a total of 1004. Of this number 734 were actual new borrowers. The number of cut of town persons with library memberships for varying periods was 42. Of these memberships three were issued for the entire year for a fee of $1.

No changes have been made in the regular staff. Miss Lukemeyer has had charge of the children's room, Miss Ausbury of the loan desk and William Kltner has continued his apprentice work and his work as page. No new apprentices have been taken into the library but Russell Pinkerton has served some time in the children's room as page and pupil under Miss Lukemeyer.

Children and Schools.
During the first month of school the various sections of the sophomore and junior classes of the high school each spent two periods at the library. A brief talk on the use of the periodical indexes was given to the sophomores and to the juniors some information on the card catalog was also given. This instruction was followed by the working out of a set of practical questions involving was able to locate for himself any ordinary book and to find articles on any subject which has been written in of the magazines.

It is hoped that the junior class will return for instruction on the card catalog next fall, and that the sophomores will come for that on the use of periodical literature.

In October Miss Lukemeyer gave to the teachers of geography and history in the ward and parochial schools, a list graded and annotated, which would be especially interesting or helpful to the children in her grade. Many expressions of gratitude were received from the teachers and a marked increase in the use of these books was noticed. More Christmas poems and pieces were copied and put into circulation while plans were being made for holiday entertainments.

A story hour was not held regularly, but it is hoped that some plan may be developed for reading to the children once or twice a week during the coming winter. By request of the Parent-Teacher's association, the story hour was held just before their benefit at the moving picture theatre. Miss Lukemeyer read the fairy tale "Snow White," which was the picture play given at the benefit.

Study Clubs.
The month of September was very largely given to the making of reference lists for the members of study clubs having papers to prepare during the winter. This involved the looking up of 142 different subjects covering French, Chinese, and Irish history, modern drama, household science, current social questions, and the Bible from the historical and literary standpoints.

Duplicate copies of these lists were made and furnished to individual members, and each of these lists was used by a great many different persons during the year. Since club members usually come at the busiest hour of the day, it is very convenient to have them present their bibliographies at the desk, or to have them wait upon themselves, as many are now able to do.

Gifts and Loans.
When a real need arises it is the custom of this library to borrow from the large library centers, unusual or expensive books which it cannot afford to purchase itself. Many people have this year taken advantage of the privilege of drawing on the greater libraries, and a number of loans have been made by each of the following libraries: University of Illinois, St. Louis Public, Chicago Public, John Crerar, and the Library of Congress.

The most notable gift of the year came from Rev. J. W. Crowe and was a DeLuxe edition of the ten volume set of "Chevalier de Montor's Lives of the Popes."

Many splendid single volumes have been donated by friends of the library and flowers and plants have been another source of pleasure to staff members and the public.

Thanks are due the local newspapers for space in their columns and for many courtesies and favors.

The Library as a Social Center.
Since the town has a large sum invested in the library plant, and since it spends a considerable amount each year in its maintenance, it seems essential that not only the books, but the building should be put to the widest possible use.

The public library is the one institution in the town that has no religious color. It cross-sections every racial, financial and social strata and it should go beneath these and touch recreational and human interests. The newer ideal does not limit its application entirely to the loaning or housing of books, but extends its field of usefulness to helping the intellectual and civic progress of the town.

This library has an attractive lecture or assembly room which should be in constant use. It should be the center for discussions of all plans for civic betterment. In fact, it should be put to use whenever a room is needed for the holding of any educational or public welfare meeting. In times past the ventilation of this room has been criticised, but by the use of window boards it probably now affords as much fresh air as any room in town used for public meetings. The room has been more generally used the past year than in all others of its existence but it should come to be the place first thought of for committee meetings or any sort of meetings teaching the intellectual, cultural or practical side of the life of the town.

A number of times during the winter the room was in use by more than one group of persons, e. g., on one snowy afternoon a meeting of the Parent-Teacher's association was held in one corner, a meeting of a club program committee in another, and at the back was a group of college boys working upon an inter-so-ciety debate. During the debating season the use of the room is sometimes spoken for the day in advance. It would seem that it should be put to use during every hour that the building is open.

For three months beginning January 28, the room was opened on Tuesday evenings and a regular course of lectures and entertainment was scheduled. Many lectures had been held in the library before, but this was the first attempt to set aside a particular night for a "library evening," and to make this evening a recognized part of the week's work. A special feature of the course was the series of book talks during February. The idea was to have the talks themselves very informal and an attempt was made to do away with all artificial dignity. Those who came found no stiff rows of seats, but placed their chairs as they pleased. On the first book evening, fifty people gathered and this number increased each night, until the last Tuesday evening of the month when there were over eighty guests. The talks on practical subjects drew the largest crowds.

TWELVE CLERKS ARE ON CIVIL SERVICE LIST

Successor to Deceased Assistant Postmaster Likely to be Chosen From Their Number.

The sudden death of J. W. Harney has created a vacancy in the office of assistant postmaster at the Jacksonville office. Some time ago that position was put under civil service and so the expectation is that the appointment to the position, which pays a salary of $1800, will be made from the list of clerks now in service at the office. The clerks are H. D. Adkins, A. C. Baldwin, Frank Briscoe, W. J. Fell, E. D. Herald, Thomas Harbor, John Kearns, Jr., A. B. Kent, James Mascher, C. S. Richards, J. B. Sibert and B. C. Skinner. Postmaster Reeve when asked about the matter yesterday said that he was uncertain what procedure should be followed and that he would take no action until he had received instructions from Washington. He has written to Washington about the matter and will probably receive instructions within a short time. It is possible that the department will instruct him to appoint the clerk which he thinks best fitted to take up the duties or it may be considered necessary to hold some sort of an examination or it is possible that the selection may be made by the department in Washington. Some time ago the assistant postmaster in an Illinois city died and the postmaster selected the clerk that he considered best qualified for the office, but the authorities at Washington did not approve of his selection and named someone else. Mr. Reeve, however, is proceeding with all caution and as indicated above will take no action at all until he receives instructions therefor.

ROYAL WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

London, July 5.—The king and queen, who have gone to Lancashire for a visit as the guests of Lord Derby at Knowsley hall, will celebrate their twentieth wedding anniversary tomorrow. Their marriage took place on July 6, 1893.

For the entertainment of his royal guests Lord Derby has arranged a novelty in the shape of a genuine music hall performance. The program has been prepared by Frank Allen, the manager of the Empire, the Hippodrome and other noted music halls in London and the provinces.

The entertainment is to be given Monday night and will take place in a special theatre constructed at Knowsley hall at a cost of $10,000. In the centre of the auditorium has been placed a dais for the accommodation of the king and queen.

Several amateur performers will appear on the evening's program, but the bulk of the entertainment will be furnished by professional music hall stars who will go down from London especially for the occasion. Heading the bill will be Neil Kenyon, "The Postman of Dunrobin Town," and Tom Edwards, the ventriloquist hunterman. Others who will contribute to the entertainment are George Formby, a Lancashire dialect comedian; Oskar, Edgar and Eli Hudson, a musical team, and Frank and Vesta, in a dancing act.

IS A GREAT FLEECE.

Edward Petefish of Virginia recently delivered wool from his flock of sheep to Harrigan Brothers. He has 80 sheep in the flock of the Cotswold breed and the fleeces are especially fine. One fleece weighs 30 pounds and the length of the staple is 18 inches. Mr. Harrigan said yesterday that this is the heaviest Cotswold fleece that he had ever heard of and that the length of the fleece was indeed remarkable. Sample staples from this fleece are shown at the Journal and Courier offices and at the Jacksonville National Bank.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Washington, July 5.—A quiet week is in prospect for official Washington, the debates in congress over the tariff measures promising the only relief from the dullness that envelops the capital in mid-summer.

A primary is to be held Tuesday in the Sixth congressional district of New Jersey to select candidates to succeed Congressman Martion, who died recently. The election will be held July 22.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, with his two sons, Archie and Quentin, is to leave his home in Oyster Bay Tuesday for a two months, camping trip in the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Interest in the automobile world will center in the national reliability tour of the American Automobile association. The tour is to start Friday from St. Paul and Minneapolis and the entries assure a notable contest. The trip will extend over a circuitous route of more than 1,200 miles and will terminate at the Glacier National Park, Montana.

One of the largest conventions of the week will be at Rochester, where the annual national reunion of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will assemble Monday for a session of six days. Thousands of members of the order will be in attendance from every part of the country and great preparations have been made in Rochester for their entertainment.

Other large and notable gatherings of the week will include the annual convention of the National Education association, in Salt Lake City; the National Conference of Charities and Correction in Seattle; the international convention of Christian Endeavor societies, in Los Angeles; the annual convention of the Canadian Forestry association in Winnipeg, and the annual convention of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks, in Cleveland.

BREAK MANY RECORDS IRISH-AMERICAN A. C. OF NEW YORK WINS FIRST HONORS.

New Marks Are Established in Hammer Throw, Pole Vault, and Hop, Step and Jump—Irishmen Finish Strong in Weight Events.

Chicago, July 5.—The Irish-American Athletic club of New York won a hard fought victory in the national senior A. A. U. meeting at Grant Park today. The Irishmen scored 44 points. H. P. Drew, the colored athlete from the Springfield (Mass.) high school, won the individual honors with first in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. A new mark in the pole vault was made by S. D. Waggoner, the Yale athlete, who competed under the colors of the Missouri Athletic club of St. Louis with a leap of 13 feet. The old record was 12 feet 6 inches, held jointly by E. T. Cooke, Cleveland A. C. H. Coyle, University of Chicago and S. Bellah of the Olympic club.

Dan A. Hearn, I. A. C. holder of the world's record in the hop, step and jump, set a new senior A. A. U. record by covering 50 feet. The old record made by E. B. Bloss was 48 feet 6 inches and had stood for twenty years. The third mark to fall was that of the hammer throw which was won by P. Ryan of the Irish-Americans with 177 feet 7 3-4 inches. The old record was 177 feet 6 1-2 inches made by C. Walsh.

N. Y. A. C. in 1911.

Superiority in the weight events which wound up the program gave the victory to the Irishmen. They scored a slam in the 56 pound weight event which was won by Matt McGrath; scored eight in the hammerthrow and five in the discus throw, the last three events. Up to that time the race for team honors had been close between the Athletic association and the Boston Athletic association.

Final points were divided as follows: Irish-American A. C. 44; Chicago A. C. 27; Boston A. A. 21; New York A. C. 18; Illinois A. C. 13; Springfield high, 10; Missouri A. C. 11; Southern California, 8; Mohawk A. C. 5; Long Island A. C. 1; unattached 2; Kansas City 2.

RAIN CHEATS BRAVES OF POSSIBLE VICTORY

Philadelphia, July 5.—A heavy thunderstorm doubtless prevented the Boston team from winning today's game from Philadelphia. With the score 4 to 0 in favor of the visitors rain fell in torrents as Boston finished the first half of the fifth inning and the game was called. The rain continued and the game was later declared off.

RECORDS DESTROYED BY FIRE

New York, July 5.—Many athletic records, including some of those of the last Olympic games were destroyed by fire this afternoon in the offices of James E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union.

EDUCATORS AT SALT LAKE.

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 5.—The capital of Utah became the educational centre of the country today. Thousands of teachers have arrived for the 41st annual convention of the National Educational association.

Every state in the union is represented. Many college presidents are among the delegates. Nearly one hundred regular meetings for discussions on educational topics will be held during the ensuing six days, with several speakers for each, and the social features which have been arranged for the entertainment of the visitors are very numerous.

Acting as a forerunner of the convention proper, which will formally be opened Monday, the annual meeting of the National Council of Education began this morning. Reports of officers and committees were made, and the arrangements for the convention were surveyed and approved. The committee reports dealt with economy of time in education, health problems in American schools, tests of efficiency and the Suzzallo plan for the reorganization of the American teaching profession.

During the coming week every conceivable topic that could come within the general subject of education will be discussed by the noted teachers and scholars in attendance on the convention. From the kindergarten child to the college post graduate, the artist to the artisan, all kinds, degrees and phases of instruction will be considered.

PARK SERVICE.

The usual union park service will be held Sunday evening at 6:30 in the public square. It is designed to make these services helpful and enjoyable. They are spirited and brief. Mr. French of State Street church will speak Sunday on "Tip and Life." The public is cordially welcomed.

Local Odd Fellow Receives Honorary Commission—Has Jurisdiction in Three Counties.

F. C. McDougall has just received an honor which is wholly unexpected but none the less pleasing to him on that account. He has been named director of work for the 26th district which includes Morgan, Scott and Greene counties. Mr. McDougall Saturday received a letter from H. M. Blood, chief of examiners and instructors of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. of Illinois, appraising him of his appointment and enclosing a certificate of appointment signed by Grand Master Jennings and Chief Examiner Blood. The appointment is a mark of special confidence in Mr. McDougall and of the belief in his knowledge of the ritualistic work of the order and of his devotion to the principles of Oddfellowship. Mr. McDougall is authorized to assist by personal visitation by correspondence or otherwise all lodges in the three counties, to aid them in acquiring greater proficiency in degree work. He is also to assist in the promotion of the principles of Oddfellowship in the district and to offer such suggestions as his judgment dictates as to the needs of the lodges. The appointment comes as a deserved recognition of Mr. McDougall's interest and activity in Oddfellowship.

READY FOR TRIAL IN KELLAR CASE.

Harrisonville, Mo., July 5.—The case of Mrs. Ida May Kellar, charged with the murder of her husband, Arthur Kellar, and her 7-year-old daughter, Margaret, is set for trial Monday. The brother and other relatives of the murdered man are preparing to oppose any plea of insanity that may be made in behalf of the accused woman and will urge that she be tried without delay on the charge of murder.

Both of the victims of the tragedy were slain with an ax as they lay in their beds on the night of June 9 last, carried life insurance policies in a fraternal order. A Ge-see to secure the insurance money is generally assigned as the motive for the double murder. According to the testimony of some of the neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Kellar had quarreled frequently over money matters.

Mrs. Kellar's alleged confession of the murders and her subsequent repudiation will probably be used by her counsel as the foundation for a plea of temporary insanity. During her confinement in jail the woman has made numerous contradictory statements and has told many wild stories in connection with the slaying of her husband and daughter. Many persons are of the belief that she is really insane.

Miss Gertrude Miller, a student from the blind institution, favored the audience with a recitation, "The Liberty Bell," and Rev. Mr. Gish of Liberty Bell, and Rev. Clyde Darsie, pastor of the Central Christian church, also made a short address. Mr. W. W. Wharton assisted with the singing. Howard P. DePew, chairman of the religious work of the Old People's Home, acted as chairman of the meeting. A number of visitors were present, who enjoyed the exercises.

PARIS LETTER.

By Associated Press.

Paris.—The pretender to the throne of France, Prince Philippe of Orleans, against whom his wife is bringing an action in the Brussels court, has started on a pleasure trip around the world, leaving his lawyers to take care of his interests. The trial in Belgium is expected to provide many sidelights on the private life of royalty.

The duke declares the duchess has no right whatever to the $16,700 yearly alimony which she demands, nor any claim to the repayment of $35,200 which she says she spent in his behalf. The whereabouts of jewels valued at $1,000,000 also is in dispute, but there is reason to believe the duchess has them. The duke declares three of his confidential men were entrusted with the delicate mission of evading various bands or international thieves and restoring the jewels to their owner. The journey was surrounded with the utmost secrecy. Special trains were chartered for the occasion and carried the duke's three men traveling as notabilities. They guarded day and night an enormous box filled with diamonds, pearls and other precious stones, and finally made delivery to the duke's wife.

The Duke of Orleans, grandson of Louis Philippe of France, is now 44 years old. He has led an adventurous existence, finding opportunities for his love of excitement in the capitals of Europe, on a trip to the antarctic regions, and even in France itself.

Disregarding a decree of banishment against him, the duke once succeeded in re-entering France and getting himself enrolled in the French army. The French republican government, however, did not appreciate the duke's patriotism and feared the popularity for the royalist cause which might result from this exhibition of it.

As soon as the facts were known the government had Philippe arrested and sent him to prison at Clairvaux. The duke was not treated as harshly as other prisoners and the republic seemed willing to do all it could to make his stay in jail pleasant. The government even sent a well known singer to Clairvaux to entertain the prisoner. The duke was much pleased at his delicate attention on the part of the republic and invited his songstress to sing for him again. After this the intervals between the singer's visits became shorter and shorter duration, until finally the couple escaped and eloped to Ostend.

The estrangement between the duke and duchess of Orleans dates back to about 1906, and had for one of its causes the friendship of the duke for a young Parisian girl, with whom Philippe became acquainted about that time. It was the duke's custom, when away on one of his numerous voyages, to correspond with this young woman by cipher telegrams. The exchange of this sensational correspondence, of which the French government was fully informed by its political police, was a source for several months of much amusement to certain French officials, or all the duke's messages were opened and translated before being delivered.

The Duchess of Orleans, before her marriage in 1896 was Archduchess Marie Dorothea Amalia of Austria. She is a daughter of Archduke Joseph, who is a cousin of the present emperor of Austria, Francis Joseph.

The general belief that tuberculosis is hereditary is declared to be erroneous by Dr. Calmette, director of the Lille Pasteur Institute. The doctor has submitted statistics to the Paris Faculty of Science, compiled from the examination of 4,000 subjects, which he believes prove conclusively that the real cause of tuberculosis is infection and continued reinfection, coming after birth.

Of all the children less than one year of age which Dr. Calmette examined, only 9 per cent were found to be contaminated with tuberculosis. After that age the percentage increased rapidly. Between 1 and 2 years of age 22 per cent of the subjects proved contaminated; between 2 and 5, 53 per cent; between 5 and 15, 90 per cent; and 91 per cent to 97 per cent over 15 years of age.

The reason tuberculosis is more prevalent in cities, says Dr. Calmette, is because the danger of repeated reinfection is greater. He estimates that 91 per cent of the inhabitants of Paris carry tuberculosis bacilli in their blood, and although they cannot be called consumptive, yet these people are capable of spreading infection.

Dr. Carl Lumholtz, well known in America on account of his studies among the Mexican Indians, is equipping an expedition to explore the unknown interior of Dutch New Guinea.

With 70 or 80 Dayaks from Borneo to act as carriers, the expedition will start its travels in New Guinea next December. The party will follow the Diogel river into the interior as far as it is navigable and at the head of navigation will establish a base of supplies. Dr. Lumholtz is counting on his Dayaks rendering valuable service. They will build canoes for the river journey and when the point is reached where even canoes cannot proceed further they will be used to clear a path through the dense forest in the highlands of the interior. Dr. Lumholtz expects to find savage tribes which have never even seen a white man. He believes this region to be rich in rare animals and gorgeous unknown birds, among the latter being a new variety of the bird of paradise. A botanist and geologist will be attached to the expedition. The new country will be mapped out by the photographic method, which has been used lately with highly satisfactory results in Spitzbergen.

John J. Perry, Frank Kiloran and Edward Cox left Saturday evening for Indianapolis. After a short visit there they will go to Cincinnati and then to Chicago, expecting to be absent from Jacksonville just a week.

CONSPIRE AGAINST DOMESTIC HARMONY. The ills of women seem to conspire against domestic harmony. No husband can understand why a woman should be continually ailing, fretful, nervous and despondent, and he gets out of all patience with her. In nine cases out of ten some organic derangement is the cause of this condition and is easily overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a women's remedy for women's ills which has cured more severe cases of this kind than any other remedy we know.

SENSATIONAL REGATTAS STILL DISCUSSED

New York, July 5.—Although sheets and sweeps are already collecting dust on boat house racks the sensational regattas which closed the variety rowing season are still a topic of conversation and controversy where university men gather. Regardless of whether it is the races at New London or Poughkeepsie that are reviewed there appears to be more than the usual difference of opinion relative to the merits and methods of the various crews and coaches and the outlook for the seasons to come. Paradoxical as it may seem there is a complaint that there is not enough racing on the Thames and too much on the Hudson.

The keen rivalry of the Intercollegiate Regatta has led to several statements which in a round-about way intimate that the best crew in the 'varsity race did not win. The explanations that Cornell and Columbia fought so bitterly for supremacy that they were not able to answer the challenge of Syracuse, Washington and Wisconsin, has stirred up considerable feeling among the graduates of these universities, and not without reason. In the usual course of sporting competition the winner of an event is supposed to represent the best individual or team in the contest.

In the case of the Poughkeepsie race, however, a lengthy explanation appears necessary to account for the defeat of Cornell and the fading away of Columbia. It is perfectly true that Columbia set a terrific pace and Cornell rowed at full speed in order to keep abreast while three of the other four eights, pursuing a saner course, rowed some two lengths in the rear until time for the crucial spurt. It should not be overlooked, however, that Syracuse, Washington and Wisconsin were all within striking distance of the leaders and hunched their strength until the proper time for the final effort.

This generalship, which in rowing is equivalent to team work in football, baseball and lacrosse, is part of the scheme of the sport. Because the two crews representing universities which usually shine at Poughkeepsie, failed to follow these tactics, and did not on the other hand have the finish under the coxing campaign adopted, is no reflection on the victory of Syracuse. In the interests of amateur sport it is gratifying to note that Columbia and Cornell men, closely connected with the crews and regatta, refrained from voicing these sentiments. Those forecasters whose selections were so badly upset should follow suit unless they can secure from the board of stewards the right to disqualify crews which occasionally break the monotony at Poughkeepsie by defeating coach Courtney's great rowing combinations.

Incidentally it can be stated that the 1914 regatta will witness a number of changes in both rowing tactics, methods and coaching. If the veteran oarsmen of the universities most interested are to be believed there will be no four mile sprint next year. In fact, it is likely that the first two miles of the 'varsity race will be more or less of a loaf, so explicit and forceful will be the coaches' instructions on this point. The elimination of the four oared 'varsity crew in favor of junior eights will also find favor. This change provides places for four additional oarsmen not quite 'varsity type yet worthy of a place on the regatta program. It will also do away with the racing shells without coxswains which have caused accidents and disputes for years.

At least one new coach will be seen on the Hudson, for Pennsylvania has secured Vivian Nicholls to succeed Ellis Ward as rowing coach. Nicholls, who has signed a three year contract, will take charge of the Quaker crew candidates next autumn. He is one of England's most famous oarsmen, being a member of the Leander Rowing club of London, an Oxford university graduate and former holder of the diamond sculls and Winfield sculls. With his brother Guy Nicholls, he won the Henley four oared championship for several years and was a member of the winning crews in Grand challenge and Stewards' challenge cup races. As coach of the Detroit Rowing club since 1909 he has been most successful in turning out winning crews which use a stroke combining the best features of English and American watermanship.

Also a Pacific coast crew can be expected to cross the continent or the 1914 regatta, for Coach Conibear of Washington stated after the races that should the Seattle oarsmen win the Pacific coast championship they would enter the Hudson race next year. Leland Stanford adopted the same plan in 1912, and the University of California stand ready to finance such a trip should the Berkeley oarsmen succeed in defeating both Washington and Stanford.

The outlook for rowing at New London is not so bright. Late reports from New Haven intimate that the English coaching system will be continued next season and that Harcourt Gold, the Oxford university oarsman, will return to assist in the work. This report has not found favor with a number of old Yale grads and Harvard men are beginning to grumble at the lack of competition afforded in recent years by Yale crews. The situation was summed up as follows by a Harvard alumnus after the sweep of the Thames on June 20: "I know it sounds like heresy," he said, "but I am getting tired of these one sided races. For more than five years now I have been spending good money going to New London to witness a one mile race followed by a three mile procession."

Harvard men never know the real calibre of their crew since it is an easy task to look like a winner when opponents are wallowing hopelessly lengths in the rear. The Yale situation has not been clarified by the importing of English coaches, and it will take at least two years more to secure a satisfactory line on the rowing system now being tried at New Haven. Like all loyal Harvard men I would like to see Harvard teams win, but I want to see them win in real contests, where honor comes only after a real test and struggle. I have heard it whispered that Princeton is beginning to consider the possibility of entering a freshman crew at Poughkeepsie and I should like to see what we could do in a four mile row on the Hudson. I know that our crews are good crews, but the recent races at New London have been too easy to show them at their best.

ERIE READY FOR CELEBRATION.

Erie, Pa., July 5.—During the week beginning tomorrow Erie will turn back the pages of her history a hundred years, to the stirring events that occurred on Lake Erie in the war of 1812, ending with the battle of Put-in-Bay and the victory of Commodore Perry. It will be a week of celebration in honor of the Perry centennial and the first of a series of such celebrations that are to be held in numerous cities and towns along the lakes this summer. Erie was appropriately selected for the beginning of the celebrations, as it was here that Commodore Perry's flagship, the Niagara, was built and launched one hundred years ago, and from Erie the celebrated naval hero started out in search of the enemy.

After having lain beneath the waters of Misery bay, near here, for nearly a century, the Niagara was recently raised and restored by the state of Pennsylvania in order that she may figure in the centennial celebrations about to begin. The historic old ship is to be placed on public exhibition here and at the other points where the celebrations are to be held.

A museum of Perry relics has been established on the ship. Among the relics and mementoes are Commodore Perry's sword, now the property of Perry Belmont; the commodore's pistols, his appointment as a captain in the navy, signed by President Madison, and the Jarvis portrait of Perry, which is the property of the navy department at Washington.

Semi-Annual Sale of High Grade TAILORED CLOTHES

The necessity of making room for fall goods and to keep our tailors employed during the dull season, compels us to again commence our Great Semi-Annual Clean-Up Sale

By past experience we know that nothing sells high grade goods as quickly as cut prices.

Without reservations every piece of spring and summer woollens in our extensive line has been cut from 25 to 33 1-3 per cent.

At these prices you get your money's worth in three months of summer yet to come, and the quality and style of our garments are such that they will look well and wear well all next season.

Please note this is a bona fide sale. The reputation we have established is at stake. Sensational advertising does not appeal to the intelligent buyer. We don't claim to sell you a $40.00 suit for $17.50 and then send it out of town to be made in a sweat shop by cheap and inexperienced labor.

Our work is made in our own shop by the most skilled and experienced help that money can secure.

Our guarantee with every suit insures your satisfaction.

Come in and see for yourself—a look will cost you nothing. Fair courteous treatment to all.

THE WOMEN ARE AN IMPORTANT FACTOR IN ANY COMMUNITY. THEY SHOULD HELP TO STIR THE MEN TO ACTION AND AWAKEN OUR CIVIC CONSCIOUSNESS.

Note: This department is devoted to the work which the women did in two places, Tampa, Fla., and New London, Ia. just a town of fourteen hundred people. These are striking illustrations of what they are doing in other communities, and what we will be doing some day in Jacksonville. The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce earnestly solicits the co-operation of the women in Jacksonville in every enterprise looking to our betterment and signed suggestions would be welcomed.

Tampa, Fla.

About two years ago the women were instrumental in organizing a civic improvement association combining all the civic improvement forces in the community.

The attention of the community was turned from the industrial and commercial activities for the time being in order to improve conditions within the city. The active co-operation was secured of the city officials, the press, commercial organizations, the leading citizens, the housekeepers and the children. Such a volunteer organization was not to assume the work of the municipality, but to direct their efforts toward creating a public sentiment that would assist the heads of the city government in the performance of their duties.

Following are briefly enumerated some of the work which this association accomplished since its inception. The work is more fully described in the recent issues of the American City Magazine.

A real old fashioned clean-up week changed the whole complexion of the city by the enthusiastic application of soap and water.

An anti-spitting ordinance was resurrected and regularly enforced. Prizes were awarded to the cleanest sidewalk and business house.

Municipal inspection of dairies, bakeries, restaurants, and meat markets, etc., was inaugurated.

The play grounds, interests were promoted and two May festivals and pageants were given.

A publicity campaign was conducted which encouraged the use of vacant lots and the school grounds as a recreation center.

Their public square which had been a blot on the landscape for twenty-five years was transformed with the assistance of the local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy to an outdoor work of art.

Protests were voiced against the destruction of Tampa's old shade trees and a law passed for providing for their care by the street commissioner.

Tampa is a city four hundred years old, but the progressive women conferred an honor on their native city which the men had failed to do. Tampa, Fla., and Jacksonville, Ill., are remotely situated, but in many ways can be compared.

Women of Jacksonville is there not a wonderful opportunity of doing a similar work that is worth the labor? The beautification of our city is at a standstill and you know it.

New London, Iowa.

Early one spring, the mayor of New London, Iowa, requested a few of the women of the town to act on the internal improvement committee of the city council. Immediately plans were begun for the health and comfort of the little city.

A meeting of the women of the town was called at the city hall, and a women's improvement association was organized. A membership fee of twenty-five cents was charged.

About forty-eight paid the twenty-five cents and work began.

With the cooperation of the mayor and the city council, the work took rapid strides and soon the little city took on a very different aspect.

A clean-up day was appointed, and on that day a tremendous amount of boxes, tin cans and trash rolled out of the town.

Attention was then turned to the city park. A $10.00 lawn mower was purchased, and the city marshal and his assistants by a little effort soon brought the park into respectable and attractive condition. The council, recognizing the vast amount of work the organization was accomplishing, made a donation of $15.

Finally, others, seeing the result of organized effort, began to beautify their yards, and before long the town was a flower garden.

The band wished to reorganize, and accordingly the bandstand, which had been lying idle for several years, was repaired. Then an ice cream social was given, the proceeds of which served to get the band together again. They now have one of the best bands in the state, and large crowds of appreciative listeners are drawn there by weekly band concerts.

The necessity of having seats for the park was the next thing to be considered. At a "corn carnival" a substantial sum was realized, and a car load of iron seats was ordered.

They Now Have Good Lights.

The electric plant burned down, and for a while there were so many objections to bonding again the already heavily burdened town that the loss of the plant seemed likely. The mayor called a meeting of the Women's Improvement Association, which resulted in their starting out electioneering. Election day came, and New London got her lights. The city council was strong in its praise of the work done by the women.

Last summer the women were instrumental in organizing the city's first chautauqua assembly. They pledged the sale of 300 tickets, and advanced $25. They sold over $100 worth of tickets, gave the people a fine week of instruction and social pleasure, advanced $25 for another chautauqua next July, and cleared $200 which will buy more sets for the park this spring.

When a year ago the town was visited by an epidemic of typhoid fever, when so many homes were darkened by death, all because of the filthy condition of one drain that ran into an alley and poisoned a nearby well that supplied the water for a restaurant; then the physicians, and men of better judgment (and women too) realized the need of getting the help of the improvement association in clearing and purifying the town.

ISN'T IT STRANGE WHAT THE WOMEN CAN DO?

HALF OUR POPULATION LIVES IN "DRY" TERRITORY.

It is generally thought that Germany drinks more beer than any other nation in the world. This is a mistake. Germany comes second. The United States consumes $1,851,000,000 gallons of beer each year, which is a hundred million gallons more than Germany's consumption. Russia leads the world in its use of distilled liquors, and the United States comes second, with the consumption of 133,000,000 gallons. Although the United States is first as a beer drinking nation and second as a consumer of distilled spirits among the nations of the world, the liquor dealers of America are having a desperate fight for the life of their traffic.

The saloon has been expelled from one-half of the population and from two-thirds of the geographical area of the country. In 1868 there were 3,500,000 people living in territory where the drink traffic had been outlawed; in 1900 the number had increased to 18,000,000; in 1908, or only eight years after, the number had doubled to 36,000,000, and to-day there are 46,029,750 persons, or a fraction over one-half of the population of the country, living in no-license territory. In the last five years the no-license population has increased a little over 10,000,000, which is more than 10 per cent of the total population of the nation, and 30 per cent increase in the number living in "dry" districts. Since 1868 the population of the country has doubled, while the number of inhabitants of "dry" territory has increased over thirteenfold. From "The Campaign Against the Saloon," by Ferdinand Cowie Liechart, in the American Review of Reviews for July.

TO TRY ACTOR ON MURDER CHARGE.

James Devlin Must Answer for Sensational Killing of Policeman Considine.

Jackensack, N. J., July 5.—Considerable interest is manifested in the trial, docketed to begin here
Tuesday, of James Devlin, the actor who shot and killed Policeman Patrick Considine at Cliffside on May 25, last. The nature of Devlin's defense has not been divulged. In his favor will be the fact that the only eye witness to the shooting was his wife. Mrs. Devlin, who is known on the stage as Mae Ellwood, has been held as a material witness, but under the law she cannot be compelled to testify against her husband.
According to the authorities, Devlin returned to his home at a late hour on the night of the tragedy and found his wife and cousin talking in front of the house with Policeman Considine, who was known as a friend of the family. The two men engaged in a quarrel, and Mrs. Devlin and the policeman and her husband went into the house. There Devlin is said to have declared to the policeman that if he (Devlin) had a revolver he would shoot the other. Considine is then said to have presented his own gun, and Devlin shot him with the weapon. Considine died two days later.

Harmon's July Clearing Sale!

Begins Thursday, July 10th, and Ends Saturday, July 26th

This sale offers the women of Jacksonville and adjacent territory the most exceptional opportunity for economical buying that is presented during the entire summer season. It marks the culmination of our well known business policy to never carry any merchandise whatever past the season for which it was intended. We use just one means of effecting this end, and that is to reduce the prices on the merchandise to a point unmercifully shorn of profit. And to intensify interest in the event and broaden its usefulness to the public, we place on sale an even dozen articles of merchandise of standard value and good the year around at a price low enough to induce quantity buying. These specials include threads, muslins, sheeting, damasks, etc., are purchased expressly for this sale in enormous quantities, negotiated for months in advance, and upon which we receive marked concessions from the wholesalers. It's impossible to chronicle all of the splendid bargains to be found here in a single page, so if you do not find listed here just what you want come to the store and ask for it; we feel sure it will be here. Also the quantity of some of these items is limited and will soon be exhausted; but new specials will be added daily. This page is only a starter.

THE AYERS NATIONAL BANK

RECALLS THE FALL OF VICKSBURG
AFTER HALF A CENTURY

Mr. Ensley Moore, writer of Grant's Campaign Which Culminated in the Fall of Southern Stronghold—Victory Was Celebrated in Jacksonville By Notable Gathering At Court House.

In these days, when railroads are everywhere, and, at times, seem to rule the land, it is difficult to realize what the Mississippi was to the West and Northwest at the beginning of the Civil War.

It was ours as the Capital of the nation was ours and more. It was the great highway of travel from St. Paul to New Orleans. It was the central stem of the mighty river system of the West.

And the unbeaten and unbeatable people of the West highly resolved that no alien government should close the mighty river to them or to their children; and the vow was kept.

But the price was awful, and all the old West still has to hold back its tears at thought of those who gave their lives that the River should be free.

It cost agony, it cost time, it cost treasure, but the grand old river at last ran unobstructed to the Gulf; even Vicksburg could not hold the Southern claim against the heroes of the West.

First of all the lionhearted Yates—for Illinois—said to the Southern wave of rebellion "thus far shalt thou come, and no further" when Cairo was occupied in April, 1861.

Then the government sent Gen. Butler with his soldiers, with Farragut and his sailors, and the mouth of the river was opened and New Orleans was again in the hands of the Union.

In the Spring of 1862, coming up the river, Butler started the canal to leave Vicksburg high and dry, but he failed.

Then Pope took Island No. 10, and Grant maneuvered the Confederates out of Memphis in June, 1862.

Then the war went on in Tennessee and Kentucky and Mississippi; Holly Springs was lost to us, and our own Grierson made his great raid from Memphis to Baton Rouge, showing the Confederacy was a shell, as Sherman said, a year later.

Sherman himself had been down the river to Vicksburg, given up its capture, and taken Arkansas Post with seven or eight thousand prisoners in the January previous.

And now the Silent Man from Illinois—Grant—set forth from Memphis with his fleet of transports and with Porter, and his fleet of gunboats, the batteries of Vicksburg were run, the army was ferried across the river, the battles of Grand Gulf and Port Gibson and Raymond and Jackson and others were fought, and Pemberton was canned in Vicksburg, to stay till Grant would let him out.

The movement begun by Grant in January 1863, continued from May 19 when Vicksburg was invested, until July 4, when an Illinois regiment in a division commanded by an Illinois general, marched into Vicksburg, and hoisted Old Glory over the fallen stronghold.

But that six months was one of Augean tasks for leader and for men. They were months of disappointed hopes in the North and of disappointed soldiers in the bayous and trenches, they were months of deprivation, and months of disease and death.

But the River must be free. "Mile by mile the restless River from its tyrant rule they freed. Till the fleet that left the priories halls, the fleet that sailed from sea!"

Time and time again came the word that Vicksburg was captured, and the glad North rose in exultation to find the report was false. From the East came word of Hooker's defeat and the battles at Gettysburg, with its victory to grace Freedom's natal day, and yet Vicksburg seemed invincible, but one glad day in July the true word was received that, on July Fourth, Grant's army had entered the fallen citadel of the South.

"Sudden flashed the words of triumph, lightning-borne from town to town. 'Haughty Vicksburg has surrendered we have torn their colors down!' And again, in clearest echo, ere the clamorous joy was still, 'We are masters of Port Hudson, and the River sail at will!' So from Traitor's grasp forever was the Mississippi won; Praise the Lord, O shouting People! round the world the glad news run."

Thus on July Fifth, 1863, came the word of joy, and on July Ninth Jacksonville held its hours of celebration in the Court-house Square. Mr. Marshall P. Ayers presided, and he aptly termed the occasion "a Post Script to the Fourth of July."

Grant says in his Memoirs "At Vicksburg 31,000 prisoners were surrendered, together with 172 cannon, about 60,000 muskets and a large amount of ammunition. The close of the siege of Vicksburg found us with an army unsurpassed in proportion to its numbers, taken as a whole officers and men. A military education was acquired which no other school could have given. Men who thought a company was quite enough for them to command properly at the beginning, would have made good regimental or brigade commanders; most of the brigade commanders were equal to the command of a division, and one, Ransom, would have been equal to the command of a corps at least. Logan and Crocker ended the campaign fitted to command independent armies."

Grant lost, after crossing the river and before setting down to the siege, 65 men killed, 3,425 wounded, and 259 missing. He also was well reinforced during the campaign, so that, on June 14, 1863, he had 71,000 men.

As a corollary to the capture of Vicksburg came the surrender of Port Hudson, July 9th, 1863, to Gen. Banks. Grant says of it: "Port Hudson with nearly 6,000 prisoners, 51 guns, 5,000 small arms and other stores fell into the hands of the Union forces; from that day to the close of the rebellion the Mississippi River, from its source to its mouth, remained in the control of the National troops."

John Moses, in his History of Illinois, says "In the various engagements during the decisive campaign against Vicksburg under Gen. Grant, Gen. McClernand commanded a corps, Gens. John A. Logan and Eugene A. Carr divisions, and Generals Lewis, John E. Smith, McArthur, Wm. W. Orme, Elias S. Dennis and Cols. Loomis, Pugh, Cyrus Hall, A. K. Johnson, A. Engleman, Raum, Putnam, D. Stuart and W. W. Sanford, brigades." All were Illinoisans.

Thousands of Illinois troops took part in the terrible battles and hardships of the campaign and the loss in killed and wounded by sickness was heart-rending of Illinoisans alone without mentioning the heroes from other states. So it was but fitting that our state should expend $250,000 in building a temple on the heights of Vicksburg in honor of the men from Illinois, who there gave so much of their manhood, that the River should be free.

There were frightful losses to all the Union troops engaged in the siege itself of Vicksburg, in assaults and various ways. Gen. Sherman, in his Memoirs, says, "The two several assaults made May 22, on the lines of Vicksburg, had failed by reason of the great strength of the position and the determined fighting of its garrison. I have since seen the position at Sevastopol, and without hesitation I declare that at Vicksburg to have been the more difficult of the two."

Grant's total losses before Vicksburg, according to Badeau, were, killed 1,243, wounded 7,995, missing 535; total 8,873. The Confederate loss in killed, wounded, missing and prisoners—in addition to the latter surrendered with Vicksburg, were 35,000.

Again, Sherman says, "The value of the capture of Vicksburg, however was not measured by the list of prisoners, guns, and small arms, but by the fact that its possession secured the navigation of the great central river of the continent, bisected fatally the Southern Confederacy, and set the armies which had been used in its conquest free for other purposes; and it so happened that the event co-incided as to time with another great victory which crowned our arms far away, at Gettysburg, Pa. That was a defensive battle, whereas ours was offensive in the highest acceptance of the term, and the two, occurring at the same moment of time, should have ended the war. The campaign of Vicksburg in its conception and execution belonged exclusively to Gen. Grant, not only in the great whole, but in the thousands of its details. His success at Vicksburg justly gave him great fame at home and abroad."

There might be a long-drawn-out story made of the qualities of the Volunteer American soldier, but Gen. Grant's facetious remark, oft repeated to his officers during the war, "the common soldier is as smart as town folks", pretty fully covers that point; and shows that the great commander fully appreciated the men who made his grand success possible.

Such is the story of Vicksburg, and again I quote from Edna Dean Proctor, in her great poem "The Mississippi":

"Seaward down, though loyal levels, rolls the River as of old. Rolls the River, swift, resistless, scorning bounds and forts and foes, Undivided from the Passes to Itasca's lone repose."
